Cooking Gift Mug

£15.00

OUT OF STOCK

Quick Overview

A stylish, wordy mug featuring a message about cooking in a vintage typewriter font with one word highlighted in bright red.

Details

No one is born a great cook, one learns by doing. Eating is a necessity but cooking is an art. All cooking is a matter of time, in general, the more time the better. Cooking is the moment when ingredients combine to form something more delectable than the sum of their parts. Everything tastes better when cooked by someone else. Anyone who's a chef, who loves food, ultimately knows that all that matters is: 'Is it good? Does it give pleasure?' Cookery is not chemistry, it is an artform. It requires instinct and taste rather than exact measurements. Tomatoes and oregano make it Italian; Wine and tarragon make it French; Soy sauce makes it Chinese; Garlic makes it good. 'Tis an ill cook that cannot lick their own fingers. Ingredients are not sacred, the art of cuisine is sacred. The way to entice people into cooking is to cook delicious things. If you think well, you cook well. A good cook is like a sorcerer who dispenses happiness. Cooking is like love. It should be entered into with abandon or not at all.

Additional Information

Contents	No