Quick Overview

Frugi clothing really is something to get excited about. Fab designs that children and parents love with all kinds of wonderful colours and playful prints. Frugi clothing is made from soft organic cotton that's kind to sensitive skin making it eczema friendly. Fair trade and organic certified Frugi cotton isn't sprayed with any chemical pesticides that can harm the environment, the cotton farmers and your skin so it's super eco-friendly. Everything is made in Fair trade factories in India where employees are given a fair wage as well as access to a free GP for them and their families. Planet Frugi, we care what kids wear!

Details

Babies and will look adorable in this white, organic cotton babygrow with a sweet pattern of farmyard animals. Sizes up to 12 months have fold-back scratch mitts to stop baby from scratching their face and keep little hands warm at night. Toes will be snug all tucked inside. This organic cotton babygrow has poppers going down the centre and has been cut to fit over cloth nappies. Team up with other items from the range for a fabulous Frugi baby outfit.
