Details

Sailing is the closest you can get to nature - it’s adrenaline, fear, a constant challenge and learning experience, an adventure into the unknown. A sailor is an artist whose medium is the wind. When the wind does not blow your way, adjust your sails. Life is like sailing - you can use any wind to go in any direction. Let your dreams set sail. Calm seas never make skilled sailors. Of all obsessions, a boat is as good as any, perhaps a bit better than most. It is the set of the sails, not the direction of the wind, that determines which way you will go. Home is where the anchor drops. Sailing a boat calls for quick action, a blending of feeling with the wind and water as well as with the very heart and soul of the boat itself. Land was created to provide a place for boats to visit.The sea was not meant to be controlled, the sea was meant to be sailed. The sea is the last free place on earth. There is nothing half so much worth doing as simply messing about in boats.
