Details

A witty and affectionate friendship poem. All about friends - the fabulous female ones, that is! What is a Friend? A winner, a diner, an outfit designer A ringer, a bringer, a karaoke singer A meeter, a greeter, a chocolate eater A debater, relater, a smile reinstater. A lift provider, an on-your-sider A diva, a bopper, a tireless shopper A lender, a sender, a book recommender A snorter, a sniggerer, infectious giggler. A baker, a caker, a mate mickey-taker An ally, a sister, a gentle arm twister A lip-gloss provider, a secret confider A thinker, a winker, a latte drinker. A texter, a writer, a party inviter A colleague, a carer, a problem-sharer A cocktail blender & cheeky rule bender A gossipy chatterer, forgiver & flatterer. A handbag borrower, a ring-tomorrower A holiday planner, a poolside tanner (line 18) A 'stop for a cuppa', a date fixer-upper A free babysitter & fellow keep-fitter. (line 20) A listening ear, a loyal volunteer A welcome inquisitor, spare bed visitor A misser, a kisser, a cinema hisser A fellow fat-fighter, a stay late at nighter A birthday surpiser & cherished adviser A laughter, a kiddier, anxiety ridder... That's what makes a friend!
