Quick Overview

A lovely gift basket filled with gifts for a new mummy and her baby boy, accompanied by a pretty potted flowering rose plant that can grow along with baby.

Details

The concept for the Blooming Mummy and Baby gift package grew from a desire to send something better than a bouquet of flowers on the birth of a new baby. For those who want to send flowers and more. A gift that's practical and thoughtful, not just a flower bouquet that would wilt within a week. This duo purpose hamper has lovely gifts for both mum and baby. A gorgeous organic babygrow, and an adoreable my 1st teddy comfort blankie that's guaranteed to become Baby's best friend. The new mum will discover a bottle of award winning organic soothing new mother bath soak, and bag of well deserved scrumptious chocolates. We were the first company to introduce the "mummy and baby" gift package concept in 2004, and it has gone from strength to strength. We still include the same high quality core items as we did then, as ever new parent knows, quality doesn't diminish over time. We are proud to never sacrifice our core values of brand quality contents, despite the world economy driving up prices on raw materials prodigiously. At Basketsgalore you will always be guaranteed our trademark seal of approval - if we wouldn't use or cloth the items on our own babies they will not be included. We would simply prefer not to exist in business, than put our name on a baby gift that isn't first class.
