Good food certainly helps in recovering when we are unwell, that is why we created a range of get-well soon gifts containing healthy snacks and fruit. Not only that, from time to time recovering can be a lengthy process, and there is only so much TV we can watch. Understanding this, we included some puzzles in our Get-Well Gifts to refresh the mind and hopefully make the time to recovery pass a bit quicker. The best way to begin to feel better and regain overall wellbeing is by eating high quality, vitamin rich foods. We had this idea in mind while we were creating our get-well gifts, and therefore we added a fruit pack to each of our get-well gifts containing oranges, and green and red apples providing a real source of vitamin C to boost immunity. We also included organic Qi tea to help boost the immune system and warm the heart. This gift-basket is a little unique as it includes a large bottle of apple fruit juice, a traditional get-well soon drink. While it is important to eat healthy fruit and vegetables, we know that everyone likes to indulge in some sweet treats, we therefore made sure to include organic oat cookies, tea biscuits, and chocolate snacks to boost their mood. For this get-well gift in particular we included a light-hearted reading novel to relax the mind and a funny little jigsaw model to remind the recipient of their youth. Unpacking our Sunny Get-Well gift will be an experience in itself, the recipient will notice the warming yellow and orange colours purposefully chosen to create a hamper of happiness, unpacking the items will resemble a ray of sunshine beaming into the room and lighting up a smile on their face. We believe sending our get-well gifts is the best way to send positive vibes and make someone smile when they are feeling under the weather. Our Get-Well gifts are unisex and would be appreciated by anyone who enjoys fruit, chocolate snacks and completing puzzles. They will be on the mend in no time with our Get-Well Gifts!
