Details

Thinking well and feeling well are often ignored and their importance is placed below physical health. However it is coming to light more and more that mental health is just as important as keeping your physical health in good shape. This get-well gift has been designed to send to someone who is always focusing on others and helping them, and forgets to help themselves. With this gift basket they will have no option but to take some time out and focus on themselves to improve their mental health and wellbeing. Inside this get-well gift there is a beneficial book of choice to learn more about how to manage either your physical, emotional or mental health. Along with this book there is a Rubik's square, adult Lego and a colour block puzzle, besides being fun to complete working on puzzles also gives you a real mental workout, it improves memory, problem solving skills and lowers stress levels. In addition to this we included some snacks and a traditional get-well apple juice drink. There are toffee waffles, and chocolate to boost the recipients mood and energy levels which both come from conscious producers that we know we can trust. This get-well gift has warming golden colours symbolising good health and prosperity. It is the ultimate mental get-well gift to send a friend, family member or employee to take some time out and focus on themselves. This Get Well gift has been designed to focus the recipients mind on positive, inspiring and stimulating activities as a way to cheer them up. They will be feeling better in no time with a fresh head.
