Details

Living well isn't just about eating well, it is also about taking care of the mind. In the past few years there has been more and more importance placed on looking after our headspace and doing things which make us feel good. Sometimes we can become caught up in life and we forget to take any time for ourselves. By sending someone this Get Well Soon Relaxation Gift you are reminding them to do just that. This Get Well Soon Relaxation Gift is a little unique has it includes a fun knitting kit, it is super easy and perfect for beginners so don't worry if the recipients knitting skills aren't fully up to scratch, with this kit it includes everything needed with step by step instructions. For an evening of relaxation we included a Seascapes body lotion and oil, quirky bath tea bags, a face mask and foot mask, and bath melts and soap. There are enough pamper items included in this get well basket gift to have quite a few pamper evenings. There is also a microwavable hot pack to place on parts of the body where there may be tension, for example the neck. Of course when creating gift baskets we never forget about the food element entirely, inside this Get Well Soon Relaxation Gift there are chocolate enrobed fruits, tea biscuits, and plant based gummies among lots of other interesting, healthy snacks. As this get well basket gift is a little unique, we have also included a bottle of coconut water to refresh the body by adding more vitamins and nutrients to boost energy levels and feel good. The recipient of this Get Well Soon Relaxation Gift doesn't necessarily need to be ill to receive it, they may be struggling with their wellbeing and need some help and encouragement in finding the time to focus on themselves and spend some time relaxing and unwinding. They will be sure to recognise the sentiments of thought behind this get well basket gift.
