Details

Eating well will surely help on the road to getting well. A healthy diet has many benefits such as strong bones, protecting the heart, preventing disease and boosting mood. With all these benefits according to science, why wouldn't we try our best to eat healthy! Our new range of Eat Well Get Well Hampers were initially created for a beloved one who needs a gift to cheer them up from a friend, relative or colleague. Get Well Hampers are an especially popular gift after an operation or if someone has been unwell and needs a little pick up. Eat Well Get Well Hampers are ideal for someone who is conscious of what goes into their diet but still enjoys tasty snacks. Guilt free treats are an expanding market and we are happy to offer more and more healthy food to our customers. Within this Get Well Awakening Hamper is filled with healthy snacks such as organic oat cookies, ethical chocolate, hazelnut butter, beef biltong and other interesting, healthy snack options. We also included a traditional get well drink of apple juice and organic tea to warm the heart and accompany the treats packed within. There is a warm orange colour theme flowing throughout this Get Well Awakening Hamper, welcoming sunshine and awakening into the recipients day. The generous orange tones will be sure to boost their mood and make them smile. Thanks to the versatile range of products and colours within our Get Well Hampers, they are unisex and therefore would be suitable for anyone who needs a pick me up gift. Sending one of our Get Well Hampers is more than just sending a basket of food treats, it is sending a thoughtful gift to let someone know that they are in your thoughts. We believe our Get Well Hampers do just that.
