Quick Overview

Often we can struggle to find the words to express gratitude to someone. We think that nothing says I am grateful for you quite like a warming cup of tea. The Above and Beyond Thank You Gift thank you gift basket contains our ethical teabags, paired with luxury chocolate goods and sweet treats.

Details

Over the last two years, we've had more individuals in our lives to thank, including neighbours who have helped us when we needed it most. The physicians, nurses, and caregivers who have assisted us or a family member, as well as the teachers, coworkers, and associates who have led us and our children through this difficult time. With both the customer and the recipient in mind, our gifts were curated with the question, "How do people really want to be thanked?" With two decades of experience, we have been able to identify the core products appreciated when it comes to thank you gift baskets. From this, we have designed a variety of gift baskets that incorporate traditional thank you gift items to offer unique new gift baskets. Each gift includes a card that you may personalise, as well as premium goods that have been hand-picked and wrapped with care
