Details

There are so many selfless acts or routine acts of compassion that go unnoticed and unappreciated when they don't have to. Hospital or medical staff who have gone above and beyond, a stranger who assisted in a crisis, a colleague who has gone out of their way to help in a time of need, a mentor who has ensured your success, or a friend who has stepped in at the last minute to rescue you from an awkward situation are all examples of situations where gifts of thanks are appropriate. Simple acts of human charity occur on a daily basis, and thank-you words are frequently insufficient. With our selection of thank you gifts, finding the right thank you gift is no longer a challenge. The basket is wrapped with a beautiful purple silk ribbon and hues of purple are found within the contents of the basket, Purple is commonly associated with mysticism and magic. This colour can be used to impart a sense of the unknown, of curiosity and mystery. Similarly, purple often inspires creativity. When the recipient has the opportunity to open their gift and explore they will be excited to discover the array of products found within. This Thank You Gift was designed with an older woman in mind who enjoys taking time to sit back and relax. We suggested this as the items, such as the thank you candle, mug, and tea, are primarily soothing and can be associated with relaxation. However, everyone, regardless of age or gender, should set aside time for themselves, therefore we think giving one of our thank you gifts to a young man would be a terrific idea and just as well received!
