Quick Overview

A bottle of wine never goes amiss on a birthday, but when we combine a premium bottle of wine with high quality treats it turns into an amazing Birthday gift. Send this for a special birthday. Sometimes with our Birthday Gifts, which have often been referred to as visual and edible works of art. We've even had people refuse to open these Birthday Gifts because they look so nice. Let's make sure we tempt them with a Kiwi Sauvignon or an Aussie Shiraz.

Details

Our new range of expensive Birthday gifts have been created with only the highest quality products. Our Birthday gifts start from £100, they are ideal to send for a special birthday like a milestone or if the recipient is very special to you. We have found that £100 is a very popular price point for Birthday gifts, which is why we created a whole range at this price. The products within these Birthday gifts focus on great quality and taste. The focal point of this Birthday gift is a premium bottle of wine. We have also included premium food treats like crunchy almond butter, dark chocolate figs, handmade truffles, and lots more. Premium foods are often a treat, so the recipient can indulge on their birthday into a range of quality, expensive snacks. They won't know where to begin! This range of Birthday gifts is aimed towards sophisticated women aged between 45-80 years old. It is aimed towards this age group due to the products included inside like the premium bottle of wine. In addition, the white wicker basket that the Birthday gifts arrive in are beautiful keepsakes that can be kept and reused for many things, like home storage, a picnic basket, and lots more. Something a more mature woman would appreciate. We didn't just include any bottle of wine, we made sure it was an expensive bottle of premium white. Generally women of 45-80 enjoy relaxing with a bottle of wine and value quality time with their friends and family enjoying good wine. Of course if you know a younger woman who enjoys premium wines and good company, this Birthday gift would be suitable for her as well.
