Quick Overview

Perfect for a group to share or a truly indulgent treat for someone very special, the Harvest Fayre gift basket is what we do best, quality products from local suppliers, presented tastefully and beautifully, specially for you.

Details

The Harvest Fayre gift basket is the crown jewel of our Simply Tasteful range of gift baskets, created not for a generic customer or marketing strategy, but for you, leveraging decades of experience, communicating with our customers, hearing their feedback and critique, and then using it to create a gift basket for our real world customers, rather than a marketing facsimile. When we chose products to fill this beautiful gift basket with, we sat down as a team and spread out our options, and picked through everything to settle on the items that kept us coming back for more, were the easiest to share around, and that paired with other products like they were designed to go together all along. We feel this process created an organic creation that we and our customers could identify with, and by better connecting with the product, envision their unique need and use for it, be it for a team they feel grateful towards such as at a hospital or business, a group of family members that you want to send your feelings to via something tangible, or a single person in your mind that you feel deserves the ultimate care and attention. When it comes to tea, we source from local, ethical companies to bring you only the finest of tea, whether it be a traditional breakfast tea, or a more adventurous spicy chai or a fruity earl grey. Of course such delightful teas require biscuits of a calibre to match, and there is more than enough to go around with Swiss tea biscuits, chocolate shortbread, Irish farmhouse oat cookies, and more. Beautifully crisp apple juice provides a refreshing change of flavour to clean your palette ready for some of the more exotic flavours such as the chocolate enrobed mango with a beautiful fruity zing, or the bold and flavourful coffee from the same boutique suppliers as our teas.When you want to covey your feelings without any compromises, let our experience and dedication deliver the heart warming Harvest Fayre gift basket to their doorstep.
