Details

Our New Parents Celebration Gift Hamper Baby Boy gift concept was born from the idea of sending an all inclusive gift that the whole family can celebrate with. After all the arrival of a new baby boy is a major life event, a huge celebration, and we figured that it would be nice to create a gift for the whole family to be included in the gifting process. Too often the new Father can be left out of the equation, which is a shame in this modern day when Dads have become so hands on and involved in the pregnancy, birth and child care. We don't offer many alcoholic baby hampers, as we already have a huge range of generic sparkling wine and champagne hamper gifts. Here we decided to combine prosecco and chocolates with a selection of gifts for the new baby, and token gifts for the new Mummy and Daddy too. The Mummy, Daddy & Me Celebration is our entry level new parents celebration gift hamper at a fantastic and popular price point. The result is a real family affair to celebrate the new arrival, which has proved to be an incredibly popular concept. Mum receives new mother relieving body wash, the new parents receive prosecco and chocolates, the new Baby receives a beautiful soft cotton babygrow from Frugi Organics, and an award winning Lamaze developmental toy for their cot or pram.
